1. Aims

The aims at our school are to:

-  Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
-  Give children an understanding of the importance of health and hygiene
-  Prepare pupils for puberty (age appropriately)
-  Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy
-  Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
-  From Year 4 teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies

At Eagle CP School, the impact of our values is evident in the daily life of the school as well as in our PSHE/RHE curriculum includes all of our core values that sustain the positive ethos of our school.

Our Core Values are:

PERSEVERANCE

EMPATHY

2. Statutory Requirements

At Eagle CP School we will provide relationships education to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

However, although we are not required to provide sex education, we do need to teach the elements of sex education contained in the science curriculum, which we cover in Upper KS2.

In teaching PSHE/RHE, we must have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

At Eagle CP School we teach the curriculum as set out in this policy.

3. Definition

The introduction of RHE (Relationship and Health Education) in conjunction with our existing PSHE curriculum:

-  is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.
-  involves a combination of sharing information and exploring issues and values.
-  is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

4. Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out under the heading as per Appendix 1, but we reserve the right to make amendments or adaptations as necessary to meet the needs of the class.

Appendix 1 lists the learning outcomes for PSHE and RHE which are achieved through the Jigsaw scheme. Appendix 2 and 3 give a wider overview OF PSHE and RHE (DfE).

Consultation with pupils and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils has directed the curriculum approach.

If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner, so they are fully informed.

Sex education at the primary level isn't compulsory and as such we will not cover this.

5. Delivery of RHE and PSHE

RHE is taught within the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum.

Biological aspects of RHE are taught within the science curriculum. Some aspects are included in religious education (RE).

Pupils in Upper Key Stage 2 will also receive a stand-alone puberty education session. They will learn about their changing adolescent bodies and will learn key facts about puberty, including physical and emotional changes. They will also learn about menstrual wellbeing including the key facts about the menstrual cycle.

Relationships education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including:

-  Families and people who care for me
-  Caring friendships
-  Respectful relationships
-  Online relationships
-  Being safe

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life, taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances. Families can include single parent families, LGBTQIA+ parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures; along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

Children will also be taught Physical Health and Mental Wellbeing which will include:

-  Mental Wellbeing
-  Internet Safety and Harms
-  Physical health & Fitness
-  Healthy Eating
-  Drugs, alcohol and tobacco

-  Health and Prevention
-  Basic first aid
-  Changing adolescent body

6. Roles and responsibilities

6.1 The Governing Body

The governors approve this policy and hold the Head Teacher to account for its implementation.

6.2 The Head Teacher

The Head Teacher is responsible for ensuring that the curriculum is taught consistently across the school.

6.3 Staff

Staff are responsible for:

- › Delivering the curriculum in a sensitive way
- › Modelling positive attitudes to RHE
- › Monitoring progress
- › Responding to the needs of individual pupils

6.4 Pupils

Pupils are expected to engage fully in RHE and when discussing issues related to RHE, treat others with respect and sensitivity.

7. Parents' Right to Withdraw

Parents do not have the right to withdraw their children from relationships education.

Sex Education at the primary level is not compulsory. At Eagle CP School, we are not covering this aspect.

In Upper Key Stage 2, children will learn about their changing adolescent bodies and will learn key facts about puberty and the changing adolescent body, including physical and emotional changes. They will also learn about menstrual wellbeing including the key facts about the menstrual cycle. In order that parents are aware and prepared for this, we will inform you when this lesson is scheduled.

8. Training

Staff are trained on the delivery of RHE as part of their induction and it is included in our continuing professional development calendar.

The Head Teacher and senior leaders will also invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or other outside agencies/charities to provide support and training to staff teaching RHE.

9. Monitoring Arrangements

Delivery is monitored through planning, work scrutinies and learning walks.

Class teachers will review the subject as part of our internal assessment systems to monitor pupils' development.

Appendix 1

The Jigsaw Structure

How the big picture fits together

Jigsaw consists of six half-term units of work (Puzzles), each containing six lessons (Pieces) covering each academic year.

Every Piece has two Learning Intentions, one specific to PSHE (including Relationships and Health Education) and the other designed to develop emotional literacy and social skills.

Puzzles are launched with a whole-school assembly containing an original song, with each year group studying the same unit at the same time (at their own level), building sequentially through the school year, facilitating whole-school learning themes.

The various teaching and learning activities are engaging and mindful of different learning styles and the need for differentiation and the Early Years (EYFS) planning is aligned to the National Early Years Framework (England).

Jigsaw's Units of Work (Puzzles) are:

1. Being Me in My World

Includes understanding my place in the class, school and global community as well as devising Learning Charters.

2. Celebrating Difference

Includes anti-bullying (cyber and homophobic bullying included) and diversity work.

3. Dreams and Goals

Includes goal-setting, aspirations for yourself and the world and working together.

4. Healthy Me

Includes drugs and alcohol education, self-esteem and confidence as well as healthy lifestyle choices.

5. Relationships

Includes understanding friendship, family and other relationships, conflict resolution and communication skills.

6. Changing Me

This puzzle includes sex and relationships education in the context of coping positively with change. (includes age-appropriate sex education)

PROGRAMME OF STUDY FOR PSHE EDUCATION

KEY STAGE 1-2

During key stages 1 and 2, PSHE education offers both explicit and implicit learning opportunities and experiences which reflect pupils' increasing independence and physical and social awareness, as they move through the primary phase.

It builds on the skills that pupils started to acquire during the Early Years Foundation stage (EYFS) to develop effective relationships, assume greater personal responsibility and manage personal safety, including online.

PSHE education helps pupils to manage the physical and emotional changes at puberty, introduces them to a wider world and enables them to make an active contribution to their communities.

Statutory guidance

Relationships education (Primary)

Updated 13 September 2021

By the end of primary

Families and people who care for me

Pupils should know:

- that families are important for children growing up because they can give love, security and stability
- the characteristics of healthy family life, commitment to each other, including in times of difficulty, protection and care for children and other family members, the importance of spending time together and sharing each other's lives
- that others' families, either in school or in the wider world, sometimes look different from their family, but that they should respect those differences and know that other children's families are also characterised by love and care
- that stable, caring relationships, which may be of different types, are at the heart of happy families, and are important for children's security as they grow up
- that marriage represents a formal and legally recognised commitment of two people to each other which is intended to be lifelong
- how to recognise if family relationships are making them feel unhappy or unsafe, and how to seek help or advice from others if needed

Caring friendships

Pupils should know:

- how important friendships are in making us feel happy and secure, and how people choose and make friends
- the characteristics of friendships, including mutual respect, truthfulness, trustworthiness, loyalty, kindness, generosity, trust, sharing interests and experiences and support with problems and difficulties
- that healthy friendships are positive and welcoming towards others, and do not make others feel lonely or excluded
- that most friendships have ups and downs, and that these can often be worked through so that the friendship is repaired or even strengthened, and that resorting to violence is never right
- how to recognise who to trust and who not to trust, how to judge when a friendship is making them feel unhappy or uncomfortable, managing conflict, how to manage these situations and how to seek help or advice from others, if needed

Pupils should know:

- the importance of respecting others, even when they are very different from them (for example, physically, in character, personality or backgrounds), or make different choices or have different preferences or beliefs
- practical steps they can take in a range of different contexts to improve or support respectful relationships
- the conventions of courtesy and manners
- the importance of self-respect and how this links to their own happiness
- that in school and in wider society they can expect to be treated with respect by others, and in turn they should show respect to others, including those in positions of authority
- about different types of bullying (including cyberbullying), the impact of bullying, responsibilities of bystanders (reporting bullying to an adult) and how to get help
- what a stereotype is, and how stereotypes can be unfair, negative or destructive
- the importance of permission-seeking and giving in relationships with friends and adults

Online relationships

Pupils should know:

- that people sometimes behave differently online, including by pretending to be someone they are not
- that the same principles apply to online relationships as to face-to-face relationships, including the importance of respect for others online including when we are anonymous
- the rules and principles for keeping safe online, how to recognise risks, harmful content and contact, and how to report them
- how to critically consider their online friendships and sources of information including awareness of the risks associated with people they have never met
- how information and data is shared and used online

Being safe

Pupils should know:

- what sorts of boundaries are appropriate in friendships with peers and others (including in a digital context)
- about the concept of privacy and the implications of it for both children and adults; including that it is not always right to keep secrets if they relate to being safe
- that each person's body belongs to them, and the differences between appropriate and inappropriate or unsafe physical, and other, contact
- how to respond safely and appropriately to adults they may encounter (in all contexts, including online) whom they do not know
- how to recognise and report feelings of being unsafe or feeling bad about any adult
- how to ask for advice or help for themselves or others, and to keep trying until they are heard,
- how to report concerns or abuse, and the vocabulary and confidence needed to do so
- where to get advice, for example family, school or other sources
