Dear Parents

The Muster Day

Words really cannot express the thanks needed for all those who joined in with the Muster Day last Saturday. There was lots of laughter and lovely food, along with some hard work and no doubt a few aches the following day. Staff, governors (husbands, family and friends too) and Mr Smith made up the team on this glorious autumn day. I was overwhelmed by the support and everything that was achieved as these were all little jobs that when listed altogether simply over-faced us.

Things which would have taken days to achieve on our own were sorted in a flash and have already made a difference as to how the space is being used by our growing Foundation Stage department. We are so lucky to have such wonderful people working together at our super school.

Sir Aquilam is Home!

How exciting! We were invited to attend the celebration and official handover of the Education Knights last week. So, myself, Mrs Haynes and our Head Boy and Head Girl, Rhys and Katie, went to the Waterside Shopping Centre to be part of the event. Lots of networking ... not too interesting when you're only 10 years old, but the cake was good! Then, a few speeches from EBP thanking everyone for taking part, before Colin McFarlane read an extract from our presentation scroll and led the handover. We made a friend in Colin too. Rhys even stayed on to watch some film clips and hear about his next film!

Sir Aquilam is on show in the school foyer at the moment and then will be taking part in the Eagle Church Photographic Exhibition before we find him official home.

Eagle Church Photographic Exhibition

As mentioned above, Eagle School will have bits on display at this village event and we will pop over to see it too. The Church displays we have been part of so far have always been amazing from Yarn-Bombing in the church yard to the Anderson Shelter within the pews so we can recommend you popping along if you can.

School Photographs

Brush your hair, straighten your collar and bring your best smile on Tuesday 10th October when we will be having our school photos taken. If you would like a family picture, please come from 8:30am and we will ensure these are taken.

Meet a Local Secondary School

North Kesteven Academy Head Teacher, Mr Wilkinson-Mckie, will be visiting school on Thursday 12th October at 3.15pm to meet with pupils and parents wishing to find out more about secondary school transition. He hopes to bring along some students to help share their experiences. If you would like join us we will open the mobile area up straight after school for this informal chat with some refreshments available. All are welcome.

Friends of Eagle School (FOES)

If you have a slip for the Friends of Eagle School about joining the Committee or being a Friend of FOES, please can we have these back to the school office on Monday so that I can pass them on to help arrange the next meeting at a mutually convenient time. Thank you.

Kind regards, Hayley Adams
