

Eagle CP School Newsletter

Term 2 Week 1
Friday 1st November 2019

Dear Parents

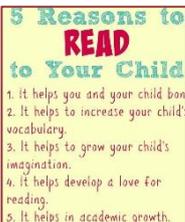

What an exciting week to come back to school! Halloween and Bonfire Night celebrations taking place in the week and at the weekend. We hope that you have your tickets sorted for the FOES Halloween Disco tonight from 5.30 – you can still buy on the door – have fun!

School Harvest Festival

Thank you to everyone that supported our collection for the Lincoln Larder before half term and donated food items. These were collected this week and we have received a personal letter of thanks from Mandy Laurence, Trustee & Harvest Festival Coordinator:

“Dear Children, Parents and Staff. On behalf of the Lincoln Community Larder I want to thank you for your kindness and generosity in donating you Harvest Festival collection to us. We really appreciate your support and this food will help many families in need. Thanks again ☺”

November Reading Newsletter

Here is the link for this month's reading newsletter:

This is also on the school story in Class Dojo. The newsletter give you recommendations of books for different age groups and suggestions for new authors' books to explore to help encourage our habit for books.

Aldi Stickers

Thank you to everybody that has sent in stickers so far for the Aldi Sticker collection, especially to those who have been asking friends, family and work colleagues too! We have had quite a few come in suddenly, but we are still a loooooong way off and need 220 more stickers! There are still a few more days to collect from the store if you can!

Children in Need

Advance notice that it is the BBC Children in Need event on Friday 15th November. The children have discussed this and want to 'get together' to fundraise for the event. They shared suggestions and voted for a pound for pj's! We will send more details next week.

Weather and Belongings

How annoying is it when you can only find one glove...or the wellies you know you have aren't where you expect them to be? Well, as it is the time of year when every day brings different challenges to keep us dry and warm, please help us encourage responsibility for belongings by reminding your child(ren) to collect everything they need each day so they have it when they need it.

Kind regards, Hayley Adams
