

Eagle CP School Newsletter

Term 4 Week 5
Friday 24th March 2017

Dear Parents

Red Nose Day

Today is Red Nose Day and we have all dressed up as somebody else. Everyone has been incredibly imaginative and entered into the spirit of 'fun' for a serious fundraising reason. Many thanks for all your donations and we can report that we have raised a fantastic £65.

FOES AGM

On Tuesday 28th March at 2:30 FOES will be holding their AGM in the school hall. It is a chance to listen to all the things that have been happening and the success that the FOES team have enjoyed as well as a chance to share any ideas you may have or even join the team too. Several parents have said that they are looking forward to joining FOES and we can't wait to welcome them ... more coffee and cake to enjoy!

Easter Service @ Eagle Church 2:15pm

On Friday 31st March, Year 3&4 will be leading the Easter Service with their re-telling of the Easter story, "It's not about Chocolate". This has been written by the children and even includes their own song! It would be lovely for you to join us in enjoying their play. The remainder of the school will be in the Church too and we will congregate at the end of the play to share in the Finale, with an Easter song or two. We look forward to seeing you there.

Before and After School Club (BASC)

Our BASC Flier is attached to this newsletter and lists all the after-school activity themes we will be running across the first Summer Term. They cover art and craft, outdoor learning and food technology to name but a few and all offer a fun way to spend an after-school session.

Armed Forces Celebration ~ Poster Competition

We have entered this competition for several years now and we have always had entries that have been placed and on display at the Armed Forces Celebrations. Last year, I took Emily, Jack and Michael to experience the Flag Raising Ceremony and we saw our school entries on display. It would be great to get as many entries as possible AND you get the Easter break for some extra time too. Winners and their families will be invited to a Veterans' Evening in June, so why not consider designing a poster that combines the three main armed services – Army, Navy and Air Force. Please find details attached.
