

Little Eagles Newsletter

It was Children in Need today and I managed to catch a picture of most of this morning's Little Eagles showing off their spots and outfits. All looking super! But best of all, even though these are very little children, we must never underestimate how they can learn. It was a pleasure to hear how they listened and understood that this was all to help other people and that it is a nice thing to do ... with cake too!

We hope that you and your little one are enjoying life at Little Eagles. We also thank you for your understanding owing to the last minute nature of the integration.

We are in the process of building our website pages to include all the information we think is important. If you can think of anything that you expect to see when this 'goes live' if you could tell the ladies or pop it on a note we will make sure it is included and you will have a legacy in our growth and development.

Bags to School

Many thanks to everyone who rummaged around at home to have a sort out and fill a bag for the collection today. We do hope that it is helpful for you as we know families who have long since left us that still drop off a bag to keep on top of their sorting out. If you missed it this time round, another collection is booked for next term.
